فلسفة جديدة فى علاج الإلتهابات الخلوية فى منطقة الوجه والفكين .

ABSTRACT :

One hundred patients suffering from acute orofacial cellulitis were used in this study to investigate the value of systemic antihistaminics in the treatment of acute oral infection .The results of this study indicated that systemic antihistaminic is a valuable adjunctive to conventional antibiotics in the treatment of acute orofacial flare-ups .Thus , systemic antihistaminic could be considered as a principal treatment for oral infection
